Do you want to sell the hottest products on Ebay? No, I am not talking about the latest Ipad or DVD that everyone else is selling. Selling those type of products leads nowhere fast. Pretty soon hundreds of other sellers move in on you and you wind up losing everything you invested.

My method involves a little known trick to search for some of the hottest selling items on Ebay, then finding those same items in your local area. You buy these items at full price or sometimes on clearance and sell for huge profits. There may be a couple of other sellers, but no one will be undercutting the last nickel out from under you. There will be plenty of room for many sellers.

Many times you will be the only seller for these items and you can set the market price. I have made thousands of dollars profit by using this technique. You will never run out of items to sell as long as there is supply and demand for products.
